I. Education events and CEF information in the next two weeks

- Upcoming education-funding schedule of events in Congress and for CEF – Below is a list of things for CEF members to do and information coming your way in the next two weeks – it’s a lot!
 - Now through Tuesday, July 13 – Register here to here to attend the briefing to release CEF’s FY 2022 budget book on Tuesday at noon ET. You must register in advance to get the webinar link!
 - Now through Tuesday, July 20 – Share information with your networks and communications colleagues to ask people to participate in CEF’s #HearOurEdStories Day on July 20! See the details in the CEF Update from 7.7.21, and see the social media toolkit here.
 - Tomorrow – no CEF Friday meeting during congressional recess.
 - Sunday, July 11 – Release of text of FY 2022 House Labor-HHS-Education appropriations bill. There will be a CEF Update with as much of the education funding table filled out as is possible based on what we can know from the bill text and the Subcommittee’s press release.
 - Monday, July 12, 11am ET - Subcommittee markup of FY 2022 Labor-HHS-Education appropriations (webcast will be here). It should be over before the 1pm ET start of the second of the day’s four different Appropriations subcommittee markups.
 - Tuesday, July 13, noon-1:30pm ET – Zoom briefing to release CEF’s FY 2022 budget book: to attend the webinar you must register here in advance. CEF members will get immediate access to the PDF of the budget book on the member-only page of CEF’s website, and congressional education staff will get a downloadable link. Everyone else will have access to the charts online. Panelists are:
 - Richard Davis, Jr, Policy Intern, National Association of Student Financial Aid Administrators, and Graduate Student, Louisiana State University, Louisiana
 - Jennifer Halter, 2021 Florida Principal of the Year and Principal of Clay High School, Clay County, Florida
